

BULLETINS

New York, April 21 (P)—President Truman, cautioning that the economic situation is "acute," appealed today for a united effort to bring prices down and prevent a depression.

Addressing the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press the chief executive said there must be:

1. "Moderation on the part of business."
2. "Forbearance on the part of labor," plus greater productivity.
3. "All-out effort on the part of the farmer."
4. "Wise guidance and action on the part of the government." Here he reiterated his plea against cutting taxes now and called for extension of rent, export and credit controls.

Boston, April 21 (P)—Up to nine inches of snow fell in some sections of Southern New England today as a freak spring storm cut a narrow path through the region, and predictions were that temperatures would drop below freezing tonight. "The hazards of carrying the mail are perhaps not now as great as they were in the days of the Pony Express, but we still have them," Postmaster Oyer said.

PLAY FRIDAY AT EAST BERLIN HI

"The Governor's Daughter," an operetta in two acts, will be presented in the East Berlin high school auditorium on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The setting starts on the eve of the election of Mr. Goodspeed as governor. He is hailed by his constituents and questioned by reporters. His socially ambitious wife, and the aged but wealthy Senator Snow secretly plan to force Jane, young and beautiful daughter of the Goodspeeds, to break her engagement to John Sumner and marry the aged Senator, thus bringing to the Goodspeed household prestige and financial independence. Mrs. Goodspeed convinces John to break off the engagement, but to do it himself and tell no one just why. John then intentionally acts insanely to scare the folks, but Mrs. Goodspeed is the one most frightened. The scheme backfires on John when the publicity he receives brings him an offer of $50,000 for a book he has written, but which he couldn't sell before this insane pretense. Mrs. Goodspeed then denounces the aged Senator and publicly announces the engagement of Jane and John, and confesses that she was the one who (Please turn to Page 2)

LARGE CROWD AT HUMPERT SALE SATURDAY

Attracting one of the largest crowds ever to attend a public sale in this county, the personal property of Herby L. Humpert, bachelor farmer who was murdered at his Tyrone township home the night of March 24, was sold at public auction Saturday afternoon and brought slightly over $2,500.

The real estate was offered twice during the afternoon but was withdrawn by the executors of the estate, Lloyd W. Kuhn, Bendersville banker, and Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, Gettysburg, after the farm had been bid up to $5,300. After the sale, the executors said the 106-acre property will be sold soon at private sale.

Auctioneer Clair Slaybaugh, who estimated the crowd at 2,500 said prices generally were high. Livestock sold well and the more desirable pieces of household furnishings also brought good prices. A handsome spinet organ sold for $65 and chairs sold for as much as $23 each.

The sale began at noon and continued until 5:30 p. m. with hundreds of curious walking about the property and a constant jam of prospective buyers about the auctioneer. (Please Turn To Page Two)

National Park Service Faces Big Budget Cut

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST Washington, April 21 (P)—An unprecedented 47 per cent budget cut was recommended for the Interior Department today by the House Appropriations committee.

Slashing vigorously in its promised "meat axe" drive to chop $6,000,000 down from President Truman's $37,500,000 federal budget for 1948, the committee sent to the House floor a $156,538,513 bill to operate the Interior Department for 12 months starting July 1.

This is $138,881,907 below the President's budget estimates, $101,362,173 under current appropriations but $26,860,053 above the Department's last prewar fund in 1938. With a single exception—the fine arts commission which received the full $12,000 it requested, every one of the Department's far-flung activities felt the committee's axe.

If Congress follows the committee's recommendation, the division of power and the division of geography will be abolished, the oil and gas division will be cut down to "hot oil" act enforcement activities, and thousands of Interior Department employees will be looking for jobs.

Here And There News Collected At Random

The modest suggestion advanced by the Gettysburg branch of the American Association of University Women that a Gettysburg mother be elected to the school board deserves the earnest consideration and support of every voter in town.

Most mothers are endowed with an unexplained intuition that seems to center around the general welfare of children. Their boundless affection lends itself toward proper guidance for the future of their children. Most of their lives are devoted to their offspring—their clothes, health and their future welfare.

A woman school director will, in our humble opinion, be a valuable asset to the board. We have no hesitancy in predicting that, if elected (and we feel she will be) she will contribute greatly toward the future development and progress of our schools.

More than $1,000 was raised locally for the Greek War Relief Orphans' Fund. At the outset of the campaign Nick Meligakes, chairman, said that he did not propose to ask for donations, but preferred to receive voluntary contributions. "I think the people of Gettysburg ap-

Littlestown ANNIVERSARY EVENTS GO ON DST SCHEDULE

Because many of the visitors who will attend the 200th anniversary services of Christ Reformed church, Littlestown, which will begin April 27 at 10:30 a. m., will come from communities which have adopted Daylight Saving time, and in as much as many of the surrounding communities have adopted DST, the Consistory of Christ church, meeting in special session on Sunday morning, voted to adopt Daylight Saving time for all of the anniversary services. These services will be April 27 at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; April 30, May 1 and 2 at 7:30 p. m. and May 4 at 10:30 a. m.

Over the week-end, the History of Christ Church which the pastor has been working on for the past five years was released to the public. This is a cloth-bound book of 30 chapters and 179 pages and contains many illustrations such as the church buildings, all of the pastors since 1828, the picture of Michael Schlatter, who organized the present congregation May 4, 1747, three pages from the 1747 record book in the hand writing of Michael Schlatter and others. Attention is also called to the fact that while the present congregation will be 200 years old on May 4, there is evidence from ministers' diaries that an organized congregation existed here even before 1747. In preparing the early chapters of this book, the Rev. Mr. Brumbach received valuable aid from the now late Rev. Dr. William J. Hinkle, of Auburn, N. Y., who, at the time of his death, was a special research worker for the Historical Commission of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

GIRL INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Sandra Altland, aged three years, was injured slightly when a car driven by her father swerved off the Moulstown road near Abbottstown and crashed through a fence at 6:35 p. m. Saturday.

State Policeman Alfred J. Corkran, York, said the car struck a tree stump, which lifted its front-end off the ground, and the vehicle skidded on its rear wheels through the fence.

The child, a daughter of Bernadine N. Altland, Abbottstown R. 1, was treated at Hanover hospital for lacerations of the forehead and right cheek.

Other passengers in the car were John R. Jacobs, 13, also of Abbottstown R. 1, and Sherman A. Altland, York.

Officer Corkran said the car was moving toward Hanover when the accident occurred. After ramming through the fence, the car halted in a field belonging to Marcus C. Hoover, Abbottstown R. 1.

Police quoted Altland as blaming Merle Baker, also of Abbottstown R. D., for forcing the wrecked car off the road. Baker, who said he was operating an auto north on the same road, denied the accusation, and told police the crash occurred before he was near the Altland car.

Altland will be arrested for driving without a 1947 Pennsylvania operator's permit, Corkran said.

Good Evening
The National Park has its ups and downs—tourists up and budget down.

HEAVY TOURIST TRAFFIC BEING HANDLED HERE

From present indications 1947 will be an excellent tourist year.

That conclusion was reached today by Alvin Baker, superintendent of the National cemetery here, who said that tourist visitation during the past month has been "about three times as high" as for the same period a year ago.

The 1946 season was the best since before the war with approximately 500,000 visiting the field during the year. If the present heavy visitations keep up for the remainder of the year the total for 1947 may come near the million mark, Baker said.

On Sunday, 2,380 tourists visited the battlefield, Baker estimated, adding that number was about the same as the visitations on the three previous Sundays.

Mid-week Flow Higher

The big increase over 1946 is during the weekdays, Baker said, with weekday visitations approaching the average week-end level.

As another example of the heavy visitation, Baker said, the Cyclorama receipts are practically double last year's receipts for the same time and approach the amounts obtained during the height of the summer season.

There were 85 guided tours over the battlefield Sunday. The "guide business" has been thriving during the last several weeks.

State police and others who patrol the highways report that traffic has been heavy the past month or so. The Lincoln Highway and Route 15 are the roads most used by the tourists.

7,000 HEAR COLLEGE CHOIR

The Gettysburg college choir returned late Sunday night from a week's concert tour that took the singers to ten cities on the 1,000-mile trip.

Led by Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, the 50 members of the group traveled in two buses chartered from the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Bus Line.

They left last Sunday morning for Huntington where they made their first appearance before audiences that totaled more than 7,000 people in the ten cities. The other concerts were presented at Altoona, Johnstown, Clearfield, Sunbury, Milton, Pearl River, N. Y., Sellersville, Oley and Reading. The Reading concert was held Sunday night and the group returned home directly from there.

The student singers were given an "excellent reception" Professor Wagnild said today. The tour was the first made by the Gettysburg college choir since before World War II. The annual tours were halted by traffic restrictions during the war.

The group has another concert, at Baltimore, on April 30, then will present a joint recital with the college band in the memorial gymnasium on May 11. The choir will make its last appearance for the current school year in connection with the commencement activities June 1.

Compromise Action Hearing Date Set

Judge W. C. Sheely Saturday signed an order setting May 19, at 10 a. m. for a hearing on the petition of Claude M. Gerrick, Littlestown, to compromise an action in trespass brought by the petitioner against Herbert Bowers, Germany township.

Gerrick brought suit in court here on behalf of his daughter, Bernice I. Gerrick, a minor, who suffered injuries on November 19, 1945, when a car in which she was riding, operated by Bowers, struck a tree on the Taneytown-Littlestown road two miles from Littlestown. Papers filed with the court Saturday showed that Gerrick and Bowers had reached a compromise whereby the latter had agreed to pay medical expenses of $589.62 and damages of $1,500, a total of $2,089.62.

NEW VIOLENCE IN PALESTINE; FIND 2 NOOSES

Jerusalem, April 21 (AP)—Two ropes fashioned into nooses were found by British authorities today near the spot where two military jeeps were ambushed in Jerusalem by men believed to be members of the Jewish underground.

The discovery recalled broadcast threats by Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization to retaliate in kind for the hanging of four of its members by British authorities last week following their conviction for anti-British violence.

Three men were detained after the ambushing, in which the jeeps were attacked with grenades and machinegun fire near the edge of Jerusalem's Jewish quarter. Five soldiers who were riding in the jeeps escaped injury, but a civilian was reported injured.

The nooses were found behind a wall bordering the road where the attack occurred.

State of Tension.
Two other British military vehicles were blown up today in continuation of a new reign of violence in which 12 persons—including 10 British soldiers—were injured yesterday.

The last vehicle of a military convoy was blasted by a road mine about half way between Tel Aviv and Haifa, slightly injuring the driver. Another military vehicle was damaged by a road mine about 30 miles west of Jerusalem, but there were no casualties.

Six of the soldiers were injured when a bomb was thrown into a motion picture theater at a leave center near Nathanya. Four other soldiers were wounded—one seriously—when two military trucks were blown up by road mines while enroute to investigate the theater bombing.

Communities along the Palestine coastal plain were kept in a state of tension by periodic explosions last night which police attributed to leaflet bombs set off by the underground.

CHURCH SESSION WILL END TODAY

Harrisburg, April 21 (AP)—Inability to complete a long list of pastoral changes forced the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist church to hold an extra session today in order to wind up its 1947 affairs.

Two new district superintendents were to be named, along with the ministerial assignments for the coming year, and plans completed to hold next year's session at Clearfield during the month of May.

The vacancies in district superintendencies were caused by transfer of present superintendents to other posts. The Rev. Rowland R. Lehman, Harrisburg superintendent, was placed in charge of raising $550,000 needed for approved increases in the ministerial pension fund, while the Rev. Elvin C. Myers, superintendent at Williamsport, took over the vacant post of pastor at Bloomsburg.

The Bloomsburg vacancy occurred when the Rev. Samuel W. Strain, was officially approved as superintendent of the Methodist Home for the Aged at Tyrone, a post that has been vacant since last November. Congressman Walter H. Judd, (R-Minnesota) told the delegates last night that "peace will not come because we desire it." He said that for the United States, or any other nation to achieve peace, "we must work for it." He pointed out that "we did not win the war alone, nor can we make or win the peace alone."

Tavern Abuses' Are Target Of Campaign

Uniontown, Pa., April 21 (AP)—A campaign led by the Uniontown Ministerial Association against "tavern abuses" was in full swing today after a mass meeting in the Third Presbyterian church.

Clergymen leaders said sentiment at the session yesterday indicated ample support for their plan to circulate petitions for a local option election. The petitions seeking a wet-dry vote will be distributed after May 12.

If sufficient signatures are obtained, a local option election in Fayette county would be held September 9. Similar plans are under way to extend the movement to nearby Greene and Washington counties, both of which were represented at yesterday's meeting.

Some Uniontown church services were cancelled to permit congregations to attend the mass meeting led by the Rev. Carey S. Osborne, pastor of the Great Bethel Baptist church.

Miners Eligible For Jobless Pay

Harrisburg, April 21 (AP)—Thousands of Pennsylvania soft coal miners, thrown out of work by safety closings of bituminous mines, became eligible Saturday for jobless benefits under a ruling announced by William H. Chesnut, State Secretary of Labor and Industry.

The bureau ruled out, however, any payments for the so-called "Memorial Period" from April 1 through April 6 called by the AFL-United Mine Workers of America in connection with the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster.

KING FREDERICK TAKES THRONE IN DENMARK TODAY

KING CHRISTIAN X

Copenhagen, April 21 (AP)—King Frederik IX, 48-year-old lover of music, seafaring and speed, took Denmark's throne today as successor to his father, Christian X, whose death at 76 last night ended a reign of 35 years through two world wars.

Knud Kristensen, premier of this constitutional monarchy, was scheduled to proclaim him king—the thirty-eighth of his line—this afternoon (3 p. m.—9 a. m., EST) from the balcony of Parliament's meeting place, Christiansborg castle—thus formalizing his automatic succession to rulership when Christian died.

Preliminary to the proclamation was a meeting of the cabinet council, to which Frederik belongs.

Death came to Christian at 11:04 p. m. (5:04 p. m. EST) in his curtained, three-windowed bedroom of Amalienborg castle in the center of Copenhagen.

Ill 15 Days

He had been ill 15 days—since suffering a heart attack Easter Sunday, and unconscious almost eight hours. A doctor—one of the king's four—reported death due to heart failure.

While bedfast, Christian had developed lung trouble and gangrene. With the king when he died were Queen Alexandrine; Crown Prince Frederik, regent since April 8; Frederik's wife, Ingrid, and Christian's other son, Prince Knud, 46.

Christian was known to 4,000 subjects in this tiny country of 17,000 square miles as a democratic monarch and a champion of Danish freedom. He was an imposing ruler—six feet, seven inches tall.

Imprisoned By Germans

He became king May 12, 1912, in succession to his father, Frederik VIII. In the first World War, he kept his country neutral. Afterward a plebiscite gave Denmark the 1,500 square miles of Nord-Slesvig, formerly part of Germany.

In the last war, the Germans invaded Denmark April 9, 1940, and Christian submitted to save Denmark from devastation. The invaders left him alone until 1943, when, evidently worried by the Danes' uncooperative attitude, they shut him up in Sorgenfri castle.

He said he was happy then because he was a German prisoner and as well "chief of a large underground army." With liberation in 1945 he was hailed a hero for staying in Denmark through all the trouble.

Christian was a brother of King Haakon VII, elected monarch of Norway in 1905.

MOTHER IS HELD IN BABE'S DEATH

Pittsburgh, April 21 (AP)—Police Lt. Peter Connors said an 18-year-old mother, arrested on a tip from her mother-in-law, had admitted strangling her infant daughter with wadded paper because she "didn't want her." Blue-eyed, baby-faced Mrs. Dorothy Smith of Jeannette, Pa., probably will be charged with murder, Connors said.

Hundreds of persons, many of them wet-eyed, had viewed the body of the three-month-old red-haired baby in the county morgue where it lay unidentified for two days after it was found Friday in a west end culvert.

Mrs. Smith was arrested Saturday night on complaint of her mother-in-law who told police she was suspicious about the absence of the child. The girl's husband, Daniel, 18, said his wife told him she had "given the baby away," Connors related.

Connors said the young mother yesterday led police to the culvert and calmly told them: "This is where I killed my baby."

The lieutenant quoted her as saying she had placed a lump of coal in the child's bunting intending to throw the body in the river. But that she changed her mind.

Mrs. Smith, an orphan who was reared by relatives at Clearfield, Pa., and her husband were married in December, Police said. The child was born in January. Police quoted Mrs. Smith as saying the father of the infant was killed overseas last July.

LARGE CROWD

Cars choked the narrow road leading to the Humpert property and a state policeman was on duty through most of the afternoon untangling traffic snarls and helping to keep cars moving along a mile or more of roads where parked machines complicated the flow of traffic.

The personal property sold Saturday included a rifle and shotgun which Mr. Humpert left in his house when he went to the aid of Robert L. Staley and Ray Herman Simmons the night he was murdered. The youths, now held in the Dauphin county jail at Harrisburg until their trial here for murder, had called Humpert from his sleep to ask for the loan of a jack. As the trio walked down the sharp incline toward the barn, Humpert was attacked with a hammer and fatally hurt.

precipitate the serious state of affairs in Greece without using pressure or force," he said. The results speak for themselves. Today Mr. Meligakes issued this statement:

"I would like to express, through The Gettysburg Times, my many thanks to all those who gave so generously and to those who gave of their time for the Greek War Relief Orphans' Fund.

"Gettysburg and Adams county have given generously, a total of $1,086.52. Those who have made this possible will be happy to know that they have participated in a noble charity, that the amount raised here will take care of many dozens of Greek families for a year. They will probably never see these destitute people or learn to know them, but I am sure those who share in this assistance will appreciate the thoughtfulness and generosity of the people of Gettysburg and Adams county. In their behalf I join them in humble thanks."

"In 23 years as director of the FBI, I have found that juvenile criminals are generally the products of neglect and improper training. The actions of the majority of them were, and are, directly related to the conduct of their parents," declared J. Edgar Hoover in an article in Sunday's edition of This Week Magazine in the New York Herald Tribune titled "How Good A Parent Are You?"

"I know of course," continues Mr. Hoover, "that inadequate schools, insufficient government facilities, apathetic communities share the blame for the shocking fact that 109,000 youngsters under 21 were arrested last year. But the most important cause of all, I feel, is what should be called parental, not juvenile delinquency. Our experience shows that American parents are guilty of seven major 'crimes.' I call them crimes advisedly—because they lead to crime."

Mr. Hoover lists these parental "crimes" as follows: Neglect, broken homes, unhappy homes, bad examples, lack of discipline, doting parents and outside influences.

9 Homers Hit In Greenberg Gardens

Pittsburgh, April 21 (AP)—The most flourishing piece of real estate in Pittsburgh these days is a 30-foot-wide left field bull pen in Forbes field, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Constructed to aid the home run pursuits of Slugger Hank Greenberg and appropriately dubbed "Greenberg Gardens," no less than nine home runs have singled its grass in four games.

The bull pen shortens the park 30 feet—from 365 feet to 335 feet. Greenberg has availed himself of the green home run pasture only once. But his teammates and the Cincinnati Reds, only team to visit here so far, have knocked eight homers into it.

Eddie Miller, Cincinnati shortstop, and Wally Westlake, Pirates outfielder, have found its range twice each. Ray Mueller and Bob Adams of the Reds, and Roy Jarvis and Jim Russell of the Pirates have contributed one homer apiece.

Of the 11 circuit clouts in Forbes field this season, only two did not land in the gardens. Augie Galan, Red outfielder, hit one into the right field stands, and Billy Cox, Pirate shortstop, sent one sailing over the left field scoreboard.

MILLER HELPS REDS' VICTORY OVER PIRATES

By JOE REICHLER (AP Sports Writer)

Eddie Miller, who only a few weeks ago was put on display in a showcase window for disposal to the highest bidder without attracting any takers, definite established himself today as the key to Cincinnati's chances for a first division berth.

The glue-fingered shortstop, currently pacing the major league hitters with four home runs in seven games, is still a member of the Reds only because no other club in the majors was willing to take a chance on his throwing arm.

Miller's two home runs yesterday helped the Reds gain an even break in their doubleheader with the Pirates at Pittsburgh. Augie Galan and Bobby Adams joined Miller in the home run parade to lead the Reds to a 13-5 victory over the Pirates in the opener. Three of Pittsburgh's runs resulted from Hank Greenberg's second home run of the campaign.

The Pirates bounced back to win the nightcap 7-3 in the second game, limited to five and a half innings because of darkness. The split left

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO
On Wednesday, on motion of Hon. J. Cooper, John S. Hauke, Esq., was admitted to practice in the several courts of Adams county.

Welch and Delevan's Grand National Circus: Late from the Amphitheatre, Philadelphia, consisting of all star performers, and comprising upwards of one hundred and fifty men and horses. This splendid equestrian company will exhibit at Gettysburg on Tuesday, May 4.

The great water-proof pavilion is entirely new, appropriately decorated, and furnished with carpeted seats for the accommodation of three thousand spectators. The arrangement of the interior is such as to preclude the possibility of an attempt at disorder or indecorum.

On Tuesday evening, by Rev. Mr. Jones, Isaac Casselberry, M.D., of Evansville, Indiana, to Miss Louisa, daughter of John Garvin, Esq., of this place.

On the 20th inst., by the Rev. E. V. Gerhart, Mr. Samuel Krise, of Liberty township, to Miss Elizabeth Carbaugh, of Carroll county, Md.

On the 15th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Albert, Mr. Herman Stein, to Miss Susanna Reltz—both of Union township.

On the 18th inst., by the Rev. P. Scheurer, Mr. Levi Hains, to Miss Eliza Wolf—both of this county.

A large portion of our paper is taken up with Gen. Taylor's official report on the battle of Buena Vista. It is very evident from Gen. Taylor's despatch, that there were several very critical moments during the engagement, when victory was nearly with the enemy—and had it not been for the efficiency of the flying artillery, the consequences might have been fearful.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Pastoral Changes: Rev. Mr. Heindel has taken charge of St. James church in this place, succeeding Rev. Mr. Breidenbaugh, resigned.

The Presbyterian church in this place is without a pastor. Prof. Ferrer occupies the pulpit on Sabbath mornings, under a temporary arrangement with the congregation. Rev. J. E. Honeycutt, pastor of the Lutheran church at New Chester, has removed to Upper Strasburg, Franklin county.

Hoke's gate, on the Baltimore turnpike, has been removed to the Pepper property, a few hundred yards below the cemetery.

Married: Harlacker - Baugher. On the 9th inst., at the residence of Daniel Bucher in Berwick township, Adams county, by Rev. Andrew Miller, Mr. John Harlacker to Miss Deliah Baugher, of said township.

Sudden Death: On Monday morning Mr. Edward M. Tate, of this place, died very suddenly of apoplexy. He had been in the employment of Mr. Wm. E. Myers, of the "Keystone Hotel" and had gone to the livery of Holtzworth and Ziegler, on Washington street, with some harness. On entering the office, he complained of pain in the head, and lay down on a lounge, when those present discovered that something serious was the matter. Drs. C. Horner and T. T. Tate were called in, but all efforts to revive him had proved fruitless, death ensuing in half an hour. He was about 25 years of age.

Good Templars: On Monday and Tuesday the Good Templars of Adams county held their quarterly convention in this place, in the room of "Lady Washington Lodge." The representation from lodges was not large. The convention adjourned to meet at New Oxford on the 22nd of October.

ASSETS
Most of us think of Assets in terms of possessions. And those of the fleeting, material sort. But these Assets are actually the least in value. They have no spiritual cast. The greatest of all Assets are—friends.

Even a friendly and loyal dog has often proved to be an invaluable Asset—but the touch of a friendly human hand, an understanding heart, and a mind schooled in patience, strife, sorrow, and disappointment, a friend "without capitulation," as Stevenson once wrote, far exceeds all other Assets in this world.

A rich man dies and the newspapers list his Assets, and often the names of those to whom he has distributed these Assets, but if such a one has left little else, he has died poor indeed. When a man like Will Rogers, for example, leaves this earth, there is left a void in millions of lives who loved him for himself alone, regardless of all other Assets. It is a wonderful thing to die love rich! With something of you alive in a multitude of friends. That is an Asset that never melts away.

The intangible Assets are what make of character, and of life, their real wealth. The great writer, artist, scientist, pioneer, always leave these intangible Assets behind. Like a stream of never ending light. Can anyone appraise the value of a great thought, or of the influence of a great song or painting? What were the other Assets that Shakespeare left beyond those in his immortal writings? How much was Raphael worth?

Nature is full of Assets that are the inheritance of us all. Beauty is not bought by the pound in Nature's realm. It's free by the carload—if appreciated! No genuine friend can ever be bought. Friends are earned, and are the most prized by those who have little in material possessions.

Napoleon conquered nearly all of Europe—but he died almost friendless, exiled upon a desolate island. God endowed him with marvelous natural Assets—but the blood and tears of millions wiped them out!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Background."

JOURNEY'S BEST
"What pleased you best throughout your trip?"

A loved one asked of me.
"It's good," said I, "from care to slip."

And light of heart to be,
But every time that I have strayed
To mountain, plain or shore,
The best of every journey made.
Was getting home once more."

The moon upon the palms at night
Is beautiful to see.
There's always grandeur to delight
Where'er the place may be;
But though I've been this land around
My courage to restore,
The best of every trip, I've found,
Was getting home once more.

'Tis wholesome wearied nerve to rest
And good new friends to find,
But home with all it holds is best,
For there is peace of mind.
And there are smiles I long to see
As open swings the door,
And so the best of joys for me
Is getting home once more.

The deceased was a native of San Domingo, and was about two years old when the negro insurrection in that island took place. On the burning of St. Thomas, Nancy's master made his escape to the United States, bringing Nancy and her mother with him, and located in Mountpleasant township. The mother supported her master in his old days, being destitute, until he died in Conewago township. Nancy served as a trusted helper for many years in the family of Edward Riley, of Conewago township, and in turn supported and buried her mother from means which she accumulated by industry and economy.

SAYS TEXAS CITY BLAST LIKE TEST FOR ATOM BOMB

By HAL BOYLE

Texas City, Tex., April 21 (P)—A series of ship and oil storage tank explosions here—the second most costly disaster in Texas history—has given America its first full peace time test of the chaos that would follow the dropping of an atom bomb in this country.

No wartime witness of the bombing of overseas strategic harbors can escape noting the similarity of the accidental explosions of two nitrate-laden vessels in this small Gulf Coast oil port to the devastation intentionally wrought by American bombers less than two years ago against the Japanese enemy.

One of the most heartening results of this unforeseen catastrophe has been the fortitude with which the population has rallied to cope with the heavy problems it produced.

Fair Companion
It is no stretch of the imagination to compare the destruction wrought here to the havoc created by one or more atom bombs.

The damage of the atom bombs at Hiroshima and Nagasaki was completed within 24 hours of the initial flash blast that set the tinder-dry Japanese cities aflame.

Today more than 48 hours after the French ship Grandcamp exploded with titanic power, great fires are still ravaging the multi-million dollar oil storage tank farm that makes up the wealth of Texas City. Its sprawling, battered residential section is still far from safe from burning, wind-borne flames and sparks.

No one can yet say how much the eventual cost may be or how many hundreds of lives have already been lost.

No Panic, Little Looting
Yet there has been no panic and almost no looting. Texas City and neighboring towns and cities have worked with unceasing discipline to maintain order and to confine the area of destruction.

Within a few minutes after the first explosion, residents were nailing protective boards over their shattered windowpanes. Within a few hours enterprising merchants were again optimistically putting plate glass into their broken show windows.

Requests by civic officials for residents to remain outside the city until the danger is past have met only lukewarm obedience. Thousands of families, including many who list members missing in the explosion, chose to stay in their homes and work without pay to help to remove the smoldering wreckage in the industrial area.

Surrounding communities have pitched in with everything they could spare in the pioneer tradition of helping the other fellow in trouble. Efficient disaster squads, organized by local citizens, have helped limit the zone of devastation.

This has all been done without loss of temper or extravagant appeals to a sense of civic duty which needs no stimulation.

UNRRA SEARCH FOR CHILDREN MUST END SOON

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Paris, April 21 (AP)—UNRRA officials here fear that many thousands of United Nations children, hidden in Germany, still will be missing June 30, the date when UNRRA operations are scheduled to end.

The child search service of UNRRA has located 11,861 children dispersed by the Nazis when they overran Europe. Of these 4,643 from the British, French and United States zones have been repatriated, resettled or reunited with relatives. Another 7,218 are Jewish children in displaced persons camps or other United Nations children awaiting disposition.

Poland estimates 30,000 Polish children are still missing. France is seeking 3,000. Belgium has lost trace of 1,000. Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia have not located anywhere near the estimated total of their kidnapped children.

Discouraging Task
With the June 30 deadline nearing, child search officers are redoubling their efforts, but it is a discouraging task. Some individual organizations will continue working. The Czech Red Cross promises never to let up. Church groups plan to continue a search that may take decades.

Thirty-five Czech children, including 17 from obliterated Lidice were among a group recently repatriated from the Prien International Children's Center at Chiem See, Bavaria. After five years of separation many of the children are able to speak only German.

Many children cannot be repatriated at once because of their wretched physical condition. Every attempt is made to restore their national language before they are returned to their families.

List of 5,000 Found
Painstaking work is necessary to find children whom the Nazis drained from conquered countries and placed with German families to be reared as Germans.

The searchers had one bit of luck. Recently a list of 5,000 children was found in Poland in a building formerly used by Germans. The list gave their Polish names, the German names they were given, identification pictures and data on their reactions to Germanization. The documents gave definite proof of the nationality of many children previously considered to be German and simplified the search which immediately got under way.

With records lacking, however, the searchers must study letters and documents, question German and Allied officials, check institutions and interview the children themselves. Letters have been sent to all parts of the world. Radio broadcasts are used. Lists of children found are distributed to organizations and publications to spur the drive to reunite families.

Some of the Lidice children never will come back. When the men of Lidice were shot and their wives sent to concentration camps, the children were taken to Lodz, Poland, search officials have determined the 104 children taken to the Lodz "race settlement office" were examined and separated according to racial desirability.

Those who were blond and in good health were sent to an SS children's home for German education. The rest, Lodz residents said, were taken away by truck and presumably killed. The exact figures are not known. Those children selected for survival underwent a training period with German children at the SS home. When they had learned to speak German they were assigned to SS families and their names Germanized. In many cases the foster family was told that the children were orphaned German youngsters whose parents had been killed during a bombing.

Complicating the search was the fact that records of all the Lidice children were completely destroyed, even identification marks on their clothing.

Start Early War On Plant Lice

Last summer a neighbor called the editor into his garden to ask about cabbage troubles. His cabbage plants were puny and offering no evidences of ever forming heads. We examined a few plants closely and found them literally covered in the center portions with plant lice. Of course, the lice were not easily seen because they were almost the same color as the cabbage leaves on which they were feeding. But so much damage had been caused that the plants did not recover even after the gardener killed off the lice. This is but one out of scores of examples why every vegetable and ornamental plant grower should start active warfare on plant lice early and keep up the campaign until late summer and early fall.

Few plants are wholly immune to plant louse attacks, from the tiniest house plant to the largest shade tree. Of course, certain plants, such as nasturtiums among ornamentals and cabbage among vegetables, are more susceptible to aphid ravages than others. But safety warrants careful and frequent inspection of all kinds of plants likely to be infested by these prolific enemies.

One of the most effective ways to control plant lice is to coat the pests liberally with a spray composed of a tablespoonful of 40 per cent nicotine sulfate in a gallon of water in which a cubic inch of mild laundry soap (or 2 level tablespoonfuls of soap flakes) has been dissolved. This is easily prepared by first dissolving the soap in a pint of warm water and then adding the nicotine sulfate and stirring well. Then add enough cool water to make 1 gallon. The lice must be coated with the spray to cause death. Merely coating the foliage on which they feed is a waste of materials and labor. Too, the spray should be repeated as often as necessary to kill all the lice off.

Many growers prefer to use a nicotine dust, either a dust bought in commercial form or prepared at home. But one important factor must be remembered in using nicotine dust—the temperature should be above 70 degrees to permit the nicotine fumes to effect their maximum lethal potency. Too, it is wise to apply both spray and dust when the air is still and thereby avoid immediate loss of the fumes.

There are five major reasons why every ornamental plant grower and vegetable gardener should pursue a careful campaign of warfare against plant lice:

1. Unless lice are killed off soon after they appear, they may seriously weaken the plant and become so numerous that later control is difficult or impossible.
2. Careful control plans are necessary because many growers suffer serious plant losses because they experiment with other insecticides.
3. Plants infested heavily by aphids usually lose so much vitality that they never recover.
4. No other insect multiplies so rapidly even under adverse weather conditions.
5. Plant lice carry such virus diseases as mosaic and other common plant ills. In fact, effective prevention of plant diseases calls for early and complete control of aphids.

The editor will be glad to answer all questions readers wish to ask in this and all other insect control problems.

should be marked by a stake until the seeds begin to grow. When the hills are accurately lined cultivation between rows may be carried out with the same ease as between drills; and a hand-hoe can be used to keep down weeds in the row.

With the arrival of balmy day temperatures, give the house plants a thorough airing after their long confinement indoors. Keep them out of the hottest sun and do not expose them to high winds.

Growing Too Many Plants Ruins Home Garden Harvest

Chief cause for lack of quality in home garden vegetables, grown in fertile soil with good care, is crowding; and crowding is due to failure to thin out the row, so each plant has sufficient room to develop properly.

And failure to thin out is often due to emotional resistance on the part of the gardener, who cannot bring himself to destroy the precious seedling plants which have grown from the seed he (more often she) has sown. This must be overcome.

Another reason may be the work involved, when seeds have been sown too thickly. It is not uncommon for ten times the required number of seeds to be sown, so that ninety per cent of the seedlings must be pulled up. That is obviously excessive. The rate of seeding even for small seeds should not exceed fifteen seeds per foot, except where germination is known to be much lower than the legal standard.

Thin Gradually
Even with high-germinating seeds it is advisable to sow more than you will have room to mature; because accidents are always possible which will destroy some plants; and vacancies in a row are difficult to fill.

For the same reason, thinning should be a gradual process, beginning when plants are large enough to handle, and continuing until they reach at least half-size. This keeps spare plants available during the early weeks when accidents are most likely to destroy some.

At first, plants of row crops may be thinned out to stand one inch apart; which will insure, to each room to develop without entangling roots with a neighbor. As they grow, alternate plants should be removed, and so on until the optimum spacing is achieved. Many of the excess root and leaf plants can be used on the table.

Francis Yake, Jr., who asked that pleas of nolle prosequi be permitted because the sole material witness in each case has since died. The court permitted the district attorney to nol pros the cases. They were a charge of embezzlement brought by W. R. Perrow, late of Butler township, against Mervin Decker, Biglerville, which was listed as number 44 of the August term of court, 1930, and a charge of operating a motor vehicle without proper transfer of registration plates brought against John F. Connole by James A. Rose, listed as No. 12 of January 1942. Rose, a former state policeman here, was killed in an airplane crash during World War II. In the first case Decker was charged with appropriating to his own uses $560 worth of sheep which had been entrusted to his care by Perrow. In the other case Connole's bail had been forfeited when he failed to appear for trial. In both cases the county, as usual under nol pros proceedings, will pay the costs.

Speaking on the subject, "Our Association at Work," Mr. Ostergren told of the activities of the rural carriers' headquarters in Washington, the large number of questions referred daily to this office and the activities of the national officers in looking after the rights and welfare of the members of the association.

Spirit of Cooperation

"The true spirit of cooperation is shown in the Rural Letter Carriers' association," Mr. Ostergren said. "Our office in Washington is a very busy place. We have been given very fair treatment by the postoffice department officials."

"Judging by the number of retired mail carriers still living, Adams county must be a very healthy place to live," the speaker said. Discussing his own early history, Mr. Ostergren said he came to this county with his father as a small boy.

"My father thought the sun rose and set in this man Lincoln," he declared. "It was not until we had reached America that my father learned that Lincoln was dead. He felt like turning around and going back to Sweden when he heard this news," Mr. Ostergren said.

STABS PRIEST AT COMMUNION TABLE SUNDAY

New Orleans, April 21 (AP)—Slashed and stabbed as he bent toward his kneeling assailant to administer the sacrament of Holy Communion, the Rev. James W. Courtney, 46-year-old Catholic priest, was in "fair" condition today at Mercy hospital.

The sudden and unexplained attack, which the priest made no attempt to ward off as he sought to protect the chalice he held, occurred at Sunday high mass in the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

His assailant, identified by Police Sgt. Clarence Molinero as Don Louis Laurent, 27, was jailed on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. Molinero said identification cards bore the man's name and address at Houston and Beaumont, Texas.

Other communicants were thrown into near panic. As women ran screaming from the sanctuary, men rushed forward to aid the stricken priest. They pinned the assailant to the floor until police arrived.

Father Courtney, assistant pastor of the church, was removed to the hospital where an emergency operation was performed.

Later Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel visited the church and ordered that it be re-blessed at 5 a. m. today. Meanwhile, the chapel was closed and a 12:30 p. m. Sunday mass was cancelled.

Molinero said authorities could gain no information from the prisoner. Although obeying all orders without hesitation, officers said, he refused to answer questions and "looked into space with glassy eyes."

OLDEST DIMAGGIO SIGNED

Oakland, Calif., April 21 (AP)—Vince Dimaggio, oldest brother of the famed baseball playing family which includes Joe of the New York Yankees and Dominic of the Boston Red Sox, has been signed by the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast league.

Later Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel visited the church and ordered that it be re-blessed at 5 a. m. today. Meanwhile, the chapel was closed and a 12:30 p. m. Sunday mass was cancelled.

Molinero said authorities could gain no information from the prisoner. Although obeying all orders without hesitation, officers said, he refused to answer questions and "looked into space with glassy eyes."
